Inflationary Spiral Ended

Blasts Democrats For Attempt To Panic Voters

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says inflation is under control but critics of the Nixon administration "jump at a one-month wobble" in the consumer price index to try to panic voters.

"When we took office 21 months ago, inflation was high and mounting," Agnew told a Republican fund-raising dinner Thursday night.

He said a 10 per cent income surtax was in effect then, interest rates were at record levels and rising, and the purchasing power of the working man's dollar "hadn't risen a dime in three years."

But, said the vice president, "because of the character and courage of President Nixon that disheartening situation has been changed."

"Interest rates are dropping," Agnew said. "The surtax is gone. The economy has been stabilized and begins to move upward again."

Agnew's remarks came one day after the Labor Department reported in Washington that the consumer price index had advanced 0.4 per cent for September, double the rate of the previous month.

Earlier Thursday, during an airport rally at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where he was interrupted by several hundred young hecklers, Agnew had said that "despite the big-spending reflex of the radical liberals in Washington, we have solid evidence that your cost of living is no longer going through the roof."

Agnew did not spell out what he meant by solid evidence.

But in response to requests from newsmen travelling with him, Agnew made a rare appearance later in their section at the rear of his chartered jet.

He said that despite the jump in September's price index, the cost of living was declining quarter by quarter.

"You're going to have these fluctuations month by month," Agnew said. "But the fact is that quarter by quarter the cost of living continues to come down."

Lawyer III; Mitchell Trial Delayed

FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP) — S.Sgt. David Mitchell's court-martial on charges arising from the My Lai incident has been postponed indefinitely because of the illness of his civilian lawyer.

Attorney Ossie Brown, 44, a partly 6-footer, was undergoing tests at a Temple, Tex., hospital after collapsing in his motel room in nearby Killeen Thursday.

Brown was being examined by a specialist in internal medicine. The testing was expected to last 2 1/2 days.

Col. George R. Robinson, military judge, first announced a recess in the trial until Monday, then decided on an indefinite postponement.

Mitchell, 30, is from St. Francisville, La., near Baton Rouge, where Brown has built a reputation as a top criminal lawyer. The sergeant is the first American soldier to be tried in the alleged My Lai massacre.

The Army has charged him with assault with intent to commit murder by shooting at 30 South Vietnamese women, children and old men in a drainage ditch outside the hamlet on March 16, 1968.

Three trial sessions totaling 10 hours have been held since a seven-officer court-martial panel was selected Oct. 13.

The prosecution rested Tuesday following the testimony of its third witness. Two prosecution witnesses said they saw Mitchell fire his M16 rifle into the drainage ditch, but neither said he saw the shots hit anybody. The third witness said he was not sure that Mitchell fired his rifle.

4 Men Face Court Over State Loans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A former Ohio tax commissioner and three associates face lengthy legal proceedings after being indicted Thursday on 19 counts of bribery by a grand jury investigating the state loan scandal.

The jury's indictments apparently cleared state officials of any wrongdoing in the controversial transactions.

Former Tax Commissioner Gerald A. Donahue was to be served legal papers today charging him with bribery in connection with loans made by the School Employees Retirement System (SERS).

Others named in the Franklin County Grand Jury's bribery indictments were James B. Lore, a former SERS investment officer, Sidney D. Griffith and Harry Groban.

All but Lore were also indicted on six counts charging them with making false, written statements regarding loans from the state treasury.

Groban, Griffith and Donahue are all officers of Crofters, Inc., the agency that steered corporations seeking large loans to the treasurer's office and the SERS and received fees for its work.

Lore appeared at the county courthouse Thursday to accept service of the indictment.

Donahue, reached at his home Thursday night, said he would go to the courthouse sometime today, but declined to say exactly when.

"I'm innocent of all charges," he said, "and that will be established in time. That's all I have to say at this time."

Groban and Griffith were reported out of town Thursday night but were expected to return this weekend to face formal charges.

Common Pleas Judges Myron B. Gessaman and Fred J. Shoemaker set recognizance bonds of $20,000 apiece for the four during a conference with their attorneys Thursday.

Attorneys representing Donahue, Groban and Griffith at the hearing were John J. Chester, Richard Elliott, who identified himself as a partner in a law firm with Donahue and Griffith; Thomas E. Palmer and William Knepfer. George Tyck is representing Lore.

State Auditor Roger Cloud charged in a special state audit office went beyond its statutory $50 million limit on certain commercial investments. Some of the loans were arranged by Crofters.

Cloud, the Republican gubernatorial candidate, estimated in his audit that officers of Crofters earned more than $1 million in finder fees and profit sharing arrangements.

Cloud also revealed that officers of Crofters contributed money last spring to the primary campaigns of several Republican candidates, including Treasurer John D. Herbert and state Sen. Robin Turner.

Herbert is a candidate for the attorney general post, Turner is a candidate for state treasurer. Donahue, an attorney, served as first assistant to U.S. Sen. (continued on Page 2)

Chillicothe Firm Aids Sergeant With 'Problem'

GASTONIA, N.C. (AP) — Former Marine Sgt. C. L. Waldrep bought a metal pot at a post exchange while in Vietnam. On the container was a guarantee that the pot would be replaced if it failed in normal use.

Waldrep used the pot for shaving, stewing and just about everything until an enemy mortar attack put a hole through it.

He wrote the manufacturer, Ware Ever Aluminum Co. of Chillicothe, Ohio, and asked for a new one. Mortar attacks are all too normal in Vietnam, he said.

The company sent the sergeant a new pot, painted in camouflage green and brown.

Waldrep and his pot are back home in Gastonia now.

A second Martin 404 carrying the other half of the Wichita State team to Logan, Utah, was more than 5,000 pounds lighter, took another route and made it safely over the Rockies.

Pair skies and mild temperatures greeted the bottle brigade of babies, many who slumbered their way along the parade route to the delight of parade viewers and perhaps, parents.

Clever, artistic and near-professional talents were displayed in the costume and in stroller, buggy and float competition.

Unfortunately, several decorated vehicles appearing in the parade were ineligible for judging as there was no child 10 years of age in charge or pulling the float as specified in the regulations, according to Mrs. Larry Graham and Mrs. Donald Meenach, director and assistant for parade sponsors, Child Study Patron League.

Area Girl Scouts and Brownie troops added their smart marching steps to the parade and Scouts commendably acted as marshals to lead each division.

City To Pay Robbins In Tax Conflict

Payment of $1,400 was authorized as reasonable compensation for attorney Kenneth Robbins in the successful appeal of the city income tax.

Acting Judge Howard Gold-berry issued a statement Thursday afternoon in the local court authorizing the attorney's circle in the recent issue of Circleville's one-half per cent tax.
Robbins' pay will be made from the city treasury.

Goldberry made a ruling
July 24 granting an injunction against the tax on the basis of the legality of the city law since amended.

Robbins served as attorney in behalf of John R. Smith, of 1023 Lynwood Ave., and other taxpayers within the city. Since this action by the court, Circleville's council has prepared and passed a second similar tax law for a one-half per cent tax on all city residents' and workers'
pay. The controversial amendment was incorporated into the legislation and passed on a 6 to 1 vote by councilmen.

Delta Queen Fully Safe

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Delta Queen Capt. Ernest Wagner says there is no safer mode of travel than the riverboat and he doesn't understand why the U.S.
Coast Guard has pushed for the Queen's death sentence.

"The Delta Queen got caught in the (Safety at Sea) law that said seagoing vessels with wooden superstructures were obsolete as far as overnight passenger vessels were concerned," Wagner said.

The 44-year-old sternwheeler was exempted from the law by former President Lyndon Johnson, but the exemption expired
Nov. 2.

An amendment to further exempt the Delta Queen died in a House-Senate conference committee earlier this month. A second amendment, now in the House, will be acted on when Congress convenes Nov. 16.

"I don't think there's any way you could travel any safer than on a riverboat, the Delta Queen or any other one," Wagner said.
"At any time they're not too far from shore and they're only traveling about 8 miles per hour."

"I'd say that my home is a lot more of a firetrap than the Delta Queen is," he added. "She has marine-type wiring that's approved by the Coast Guard.
We don't have anything in here that isn't approved by the Coast Guard."

The mountain-like, cigar-smoking seaman noted that the crew quarters had been painted with fire resistant paint and there is a sprinkler system throughout the boat.

Wagner, 59, has been captain of the Queen for nine years.
The Delta Queen is the last steam-powered sternwheeler to carry overnight passengers on American waterways. The Cincinnati-based boat left St. Paul Thursday night on its last scheduled trip down the Mississippi River to New Orleans.

U.S. May Pay Farmers To Uproot Wild Marijuana

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government sources say the Nixon administration is considering paying farmers to destroy marijuana growing wild on their acreage.

The proposed marijuana control program reportedly could be financed with Justice Department funds channeled through the Agriculture Department's Agricultural Conservation Program.

Under ACP, farmers can get federal aid—usually for 50 per cent of expenditures—for carrying out approved conservation projects.

So far, the White House Office of Management and Budget has refused to authorize ACP projects, although Congress approved financing at a minimum of $190 million for next year.

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin has tried to get budget planners to change their minds. Part of his department's

that earned him the Best of Show award at the amateur art contest. The same entry has received two other grand prize awards — one at the county fair and one at Ashville's Fourth of July contest.

Art Instructor Gets Grand Prize

An oil painting submitted by William Chandler took the Best of Show award in the amateur art competition Thursday.

Chandler's oil, done in shades of muted browns, was rated best of all the entries in the showing. The artist, an art instructor at Logan Elm High School, also copped grand prize honors in the craft's division with another artistic display.

Several of Chandler's students had entries in the show this year. One, a kinetic art display, earned an award in the Mid-Southern Ohio Art Competition.
Another girl received a special award at the same contest and a third student had work accepted at the Ohio State Fair.

As instructor, Chandler keeps himself very busy. In addition to his school work, he instructs classes at the YMCA as part of their fall informal education schedule.

Other winners in the adult di-

ABDOMINAL PAIN

That "pain in your belly" could be caused by a nerve lesion in your spine. A subluxated vertebra, or slipped disc, in the spine can be the cause of back and leg pain
... and abdominal pain as well. For some patients the abdominal symptoms are of minor importance; for others the abdominal symptoms are equally troublesome; and in some the abdominal pain is more severe than that in the back. Abdominal neuralgia from nerve lesions in the back simulate various forms of abdominal disease and is frequently misinterpreted as appendicitis, renal colic, urethral stones, colitis, adhesions, and diseases of the female organs.

It is therefore, especially important for patients with back and abdominal pain to submit to a chiropractic examination and indicated correction of vertebral nerve lesions that may be responsible for the pain.

Presented in the public interest for better health through chiropractic under the auspices of the Central Ohio Chiropractic Association.

Ohio's Jobless

Rate Inches Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio unemployment climbed .5 per cent in September, but remained substantially below the national rate. Administrator Willard P. Dudley of the Bureau of Employment Service reports.

Dudley said the state's unemployment rose from 3.3 per cent in August to 3.8 per cent in September. That compares with 5.5 per cent nationally.

Meanwhile, the gross average hours of work and weekly earnings in Ohio increased, while declining on a national basis. Total employment in Ohio advanced .5 per cent to 4,411,000.

Convict Pair For Fraud

CINCINNATI (AP)—Herbert Engle, 50, and Miss Mary Yochum, 33, were convicted Thursday by a U. S. District Court jury of five year old charges of fraud in connection with $500,000 worth of missing bonds, assets of the bankrupt King Bee auto leasing firm.

The pair were found guilty of wire fraud, interstate transportation of stolen property and conspiracy to conceal assets in anticipation of bankruptcy.

Engle operated the firm in suburban Mount Healthy from 1951-1958. The pair were returned from Medford, Ore., climaxing a five year search by the FBI.

The prosecution charged that Engle used company funds to purchase the bonds in anticipation of involuntary bankruptcy petitions brought by two automobile dealers against King Bee.

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnam that American troops are phasing out of is not the same country they entered in force five years ago.

A sudden, subtle and totally unexpected social revolution has changed the face of the country. The water buffalo is on the way out. Urbanization is the way in. Already 60 per cent of South Vietnam's 18 million people live in cities, compared with less than 40 per cent when the big troop buildup began.

The sound and stench of the motorbike, for better or for worse, are everywhere in the land, even in remote highland provinces where the roads six months ago were impassable to an armored battalion.

Spreading pacification and soaring inflation have combined to bring prosperity of a sort to a people who can hardly remember what it's like not to live under a wartime economy.

The tiniest Delta village glitters with rooftops of U.S. tin and is thickly forested with television antennas. Two million dollars worth of tractors, mostly from Japan, are sold every month in Vietnam. A new middle class of more than 250,000 skilled and semiskilled workers, trained mostly by the American contractor firms that gave Vietnam the finest deepwater ports and jet air fields in Asia, apprehensively eye the future when all the war contracts will be done.

A new Mandarin class of civil servants, pushed into democracy Western style, is moving out into the villages and hamlets under the even more apprehensive eye of the suddenly well-off farmer.

Can the new Vietnam, the one that the Americans are leaving militarily, make it on its own economically? Or will it fall back, as fast as the troops pull back, into its ancient Asian ways of collusion, corruption and graft?

Inflation is the key to everything: the main reasons for the peasant's unexpected prosperity, the main incentive to bribery among public servants whose salaries seldom keep pace with the skyrocketing piaster, the main reason why America pays more than three times over legal rate: 118 piasters to the dollar, black market rate, around 400—for every yard of dirt it puts in a construction project, for every import, salary, box of ammunition it underwrites.

Economics Minister Pham Kim Ngoc speaks openly of what almost everyone at the U.S. Embassy concedes privately—that the American dollar will be needed for a long, long time to shore up the Vietnamese economy.

Minister Ngoc points out that the national budget for 1971, the first year of Vietnamization, will be 300 billion piasters, more than double last year's budget.

Of this, he said, 180 billion will have to come from taxes "and the rest from the printing press," meaning deficit spending underwritten by Uncle Sam.

But this plainly is an optimistic view of how much of the tab the Vietnamese will be able to pick up. Last year the government collected only 37 billion piasters in taxes, which was three times better than the previous year.

"The amount of uncollected taxes in this country is staggering," says a member of the American Chamber of Commerce whose firm has tried to do business in Vietnam for the past eight years. "The Vietnamese will pay off anyone rather than pay legal taxes, and in Cholon (Saigon's huge Chinese quarter) no taxes are collected at all because the Chinese don't keep books. There are bars on Tu Do Street jammed to the doors every day that report gross receipts of 10,000 piasters (about $25 at the black market rate) a year."

A senior American official, just below ambassadorial level, admits that the Vietnamese government collects virtually no taxes in the lush Mekong Delta, where the Viet Cong tax collector had his greatest success.

The same official says corruption in the past year has become so "widespread and disorganized" that outside investors, especially American firms, prefer to locate in Bangkok.

"Thailand may be just as corrupt, but there it's organized. Here everyone wants a piece of the action, and an investor winds up paying several times over for the same official service."

Minister Ngoc concedes that most of these ills exist and indeed are prevalent at a time when Vietnam needs outside investors to help shoulder the burden of what already is the fourth largest army in the world.

But he blames the Americans for trying to push democratization and Vietnamization at the same time.

"The ideas are mutually antagonistic. No senator is going to get up and ask for more taxes. We tried to tax doctors, and the medical association, our equivalent of the AMA, resigned in toto. The Vietnamese Chamber of Commerce has filed endless protests against current and proposed taxes. If we were less democratic, untroubled by such voices, we could be more efficient."

The rush to convert the shabby plaster into hard goods has lined the sidewalks of Saigon three deep with parked motorbikes, littered the streets with thousands of stalls selling smuggled and black market luxury goods ranging from TV sets and toasters to ice buckets and toy telephones. With peasants and refugees flocking in from the countryside, the once-graceful French colonial capital is a nightmare of congestion, smog and dangerous noise levels.

Other cities—Can Tho, Da Nang, Long Xuyen, Qui Nhon—have had similar but less dramatic population explosions. Almost unnoticed, the urbanization of Vietnam followed the pattern of the war and eventually the slow progress of pacification. Dependents followed their ARVN soldiers to new outposts, whole hamlets and villages moved on to secure areas to escape the fighting areas, others were moved by the government away from free fire zones, whole families moved from the paddies and the highlands to the cities in search of money, jobs, security.

In 1965, when Vietnam seemed in danger of collapsing as province towns in the highlands fell one after another, winning the loyalty of the peasantry was deemed essential to the survival of the country.

But after the Tet fighting in 1968, when the peasant failed to heed the Viet Cong's call for a general uprising even if he still remained aloof toward the Saigon government, pacification planners breathed easier about attitudes in the countryside.

Now the power base has switched to the cities where strong labor unions, particularly among transport workers and groups, refugee enclaves and various militant Buddhist factions constitute pockets of influence in the population that, in times of discontent, could provide the Communists with new ground for exploitation.

Strangely, the costly and oft-overhauled pacification program, now computerized down to the most remote hamlet and village, ignores almost altogether er the sudden shift in the population basis from the country to the city.

"What has been needed all along," says Gerald Hickey, urbanologist for the Rand Corp., "is not some futuristic plan for winning minds and hearts to democracy but some solid, interim planning for taking care of what is happening now in Vietnam as the war winds down. Urbanization of society is rushing ahead of Vietnamization of the war, and land reform is getting under way at a time when people are leaving the land and moving to the urban areas."

The angry uprising of the disabled war veterans from their squatter shanties in recent months may augur future discontent as the big civilian payrolls begin to run out and the bubble bursts for the newly skilled middle class.

"We've left this country a vast resource and a mighty headache," said RMK-BFJ general manager John B. Kirkpatrick of the 200,000 Vietnamese his construction consortium has trained in skills ranging from stock clerks and plumbers to dredge operators, draftsmen and computer programmers. "They could form the basis for a bright industrial future, if industries come along, or they could be the power base for a disgruntled, unemployed middle class."

So far, industries have not come flocking into Vietnam, except for the contract firms directly paid by the United States, but as security increases and the war subsides, the natural wealth of Vietnam and its war-gained ports and airfields are drawing interest.

Already some Japanese investors have shown an interest in the deepwater port complex at Cam Ranh Bay, and at least one American has offered to buy it from the Vietnamese government for a reported $348 million.

Some 15 foreign oil companies have applied for exploiting the littoral shelf sticking out in the South China Sea and the territorial waters in the Gulf of Thailand.

The rubber plantations, hard hit by the war, are back in production again. Last year they exported $9 million worth of latex, but it will be several seasons before they reach the pre-war $48-million level.

Double cropping in the Delta, the new miracle strains of rice, the largely untapped fishing and timber resources are all on the plus side for the future, but taken all together under the most optimistic forecasts they can never sustain Vietnamization nor absorb the manpower now being released from what a top U.S. Mission official call "the most luxurious and extravagant war ever fought."

Propelled toward urbanization without any industries save for a few textile mills, breweries and glass works, the new Vietnam finds itself in the dilemma of being neither able to return to the old Vietnam nor shake off the evil that for many made the war years the giddy, prosperous years.

Vietnam's Gross National Product now stands at 600 billion piasters, compared with 145 billion, when U.S. troops by the hundreds of thousands splashed ashore in 1965. Nearly 75 per cent of the GNP growth, as Minister Ngoc points out, stems from war-related service industries financed directly or indirectly by Uncle Sam.

By next year, Vietnam is expected to be self-sufficient in rice and in a position to turn dollar-drain imports into exports. But the export prospects will certainly diminish as the new "miracle rice" strains increase production in Malaysia, Indonesia, Japan, the Philippines and other prime markets. Economists predict that the Mekong Delta, if steered away from a one-crop rice economy, could provide Vietnam with up to $100 million a year in exports of bananas, sugar, cinnamon, cut flowers and so-called industrial crops like soybeans. Japanese merchants already re-interested in Vietnam's agricultural potential, along with its fishing and timber resources.

But to achieve a really viable economy, free from Uncle Sam's handouts, Minister Ngoc and a number of U.S. economists are convinced Vietnam must reorient its economy away from the domination of its prewar agricultural past toward the promise and the attendant problems of the new urbanization. This means foreign investment.

The few members of Saigon's American Chamber of Commerce, however, who have taken a flyer in the Vietnamese economy say their presence is discouraged by prohibitively high import licenses on machines and raw materials needed to sustain a business, confusing laws, burdensome, corrupt bureaucracy that survives on "speed money," a government attitude of distrust of all foreigners and, most disheartening of all, the unrealistically pegged price of the piaster, which triples the cost of labor and materials and prices their products out of the market.

Surprisingly, as the dark economic clouds of disengagement gather, the farmer rides high above it all on his own inflationary carpet.

Whether the piaster continues sky-high or hits the bottom, it will be Uncle Sam waiting at the trampoline. Barring another social revolution or an even more unlikely full military solution, there is no other reading available from American or Vietnamese sources of the economic indicators.

"We're not out of Europe yet, and the war there ended 25 years ago," points out a top embassy official. "What makes us think we'll be out of Asia before the end of the century."

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Desi Arnaz, cohost for a week on the syndicated "Mike Douglas Show," was explaining recently about his casting choices for a network series, "The Mothers-in-Law," and may have put his finger on a spot afflicting many of this season's new shows.

"You have to like the people if you are going to have them in your home every week," explained Arnaz. "They don't have to be the greatest actors in the world, they don't have to be marvelous. They just have to be people you like—there must be some feeling."

On the networks' Thursday night schedule, some stars such as Jim Nabors and Raymond Burr won their welcome in earlier series and their new series do well. Then there is also Vince Edwards, once the hero of "Ben Casey," but whose new "Matt Lincoln" is near the bottom of the Nielsen list.

In the most recent episode, the Edwards character in the ABC series was more personally involved than is usual. A former fiancée lost her sight in a plane crash. Matt Lincoln's assignment is to make her accept her condition and learn to live with it.

Dr. Lincoln, a psychiatrist, takes a passive role and most of the series' drama is played out by the guest star.

By contrast, another TV doctor, Marcus Welby, became more involved with his patients and, hence, more identifiable.

And there is "The Odd Couple," later in the evening on ABC, which may be a disappointment to its network. It is a funny series although based on a single idea: the conflict between a sloppy man and a fuss-budget sharing an apartment.

In Thursday night's show Oscar, the slob, got so fed up with Felix' fuming over disorder that he tossed him out of the apartment. Felix moved in with married friends—and drove them up the wall, too.

The mess that Oscar makes and the Nervous Nellie attitudes of Felix—may not be as amusing to a housewife as they are to a male producer or writer Jack Klugman and Tony Randall handle their roles beautifully, but the question, suggested by Arnaz, is whether either character is likeable enough to be welcome as a weekly guest.

In connection with this quality of likability, NBC's Audience Research Department recently asked 2,000 persons about "performer popularity." And the most popular television personalities on the list of more than 1,000 lovable good guys—Bob Hope, Red Skelton, Flip Wilson, Walter Brennan and Robert Young.

The readings are normal for this time of year.

Cloudiness will be on the increase tonight as a low pressure area develops near Kansas. By Saturday, the pressure is forecast to move northward across Wisconsin.

Showers are expected to develop in western Ohio tonight and there is a chance of showers over the state Saturday as southerly winds keep temperatures in the 60s or low 70s Saturday afternoon.

Clearing weather is the outlook for Sunday as the low pressure system moves northeastward with temperatures continuing on the mild side.

— FORECASTS —

OHIO—Cloudy and not so cool tonight with chance of showers mainly west portion, low from mid 40s to lower 50s. Saturday cloudy with chance of showers and high in upper 60s and lower 70s.

NORTHWEST INLAND, WEST LAKE SHORE, WEST CENTRAL, CENTRAL AND SOUTHWEST — Cloudy and not so cool tonight with chance of showers late tonight, low in upper 40s and low 50s. Saturday, cloudy chance of showers and high in upper 60s and low 70s. Outlook for Sunday, showers ending and mild.

EAST LAKE SHORE, NORTHEAST INLAND, EAST CENTRAL AND SOUTHEAST—Increasing cloudiness and not so cool tonight, low 45 to 50. Saturday, cloudy with chance of showers and high 65 to 70. Outlook for Sunday, showers ending and mild.

Many Find Contemplation Eases Problems Of Living

By KATHLEEN MCCULLOUGH
Associated Press Writer

LAKE DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — More and more people seem to be turning to contemplation as a solution to man's problem of living in today's hypertense, overcrowded world. That's the indication at a retreat house near Dallas, in any case.

The Jesuit-run Montserrat Retreat House here is steadily growing in popularity. Nearly 750 persons so far this year have put home, business and recreation aside for three days to "retreat" to this quiet spot about 20 miles north of Dallas.

The attendance shows a steady increase over the 679 retreatants in all of last year and the 669 the year before. A total of 16,000 persons have come to Montserrat since it opened its doors 11 years ago.

Protestants as well as Roman Catholics are looking to what the Rev. J. H. McCown S.J., one of the retreat directors, prefers to call "House of Renewal" for spiritual and psychological refreshment to cope with life.

It's not a new idea. Aristotle—whose philosophy has influenced Christian philosophy strongly—believed contemplation was the highest and most perfect form of happiness.

Christ invited His disciples, back from strenuous missionary activity, "Come apart into a desert place and rest a while."

Outside the Christian sphere, many Eastern religions have been strong exponents of contemplation and some people today are turning to Buddha and the Hindu discipline called yoga for the same freedom of the individual accomplished by joining with the "universal spirit."

Father McCown said the retreat may help man find a peaceful, creative life even today.

"Never was there a greater need for this kind of renewal," the priest explained. "Never such distractions, such noises, such demands for our attention, so much anxiety, uncertainty, confusion."

"The word 'retreat' is probably unfortunate because it doesn't have much appeal today. A better name for our house is House of Renewal."

"It's not to evade the stern realities of our life any more than a time out in a hot basketball game is evading the game."

"A renewal house can offer time, leisure, relaxation, inspiration and guidance to take stock of ourselves as human beings made in God's image, and with a destiny that extends beyond this world."

Vatican Embarks On Drive To Be Friends With Reds

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican has embarked on another drive to improve its relations with Communist governments from Eastern Europe to Peking. Czechoslovakia, Poland and Hungary are the current targets in Europe and the Vatican observer at the United Nations has indicated that the Roman Catholic Church favors a U.N. seat for Red China.

Pope Paul VI has often stressed the need for dialogue between the Holy See and the Communist governments.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko is visiting Italy Nov. 10-16, and a Vatican spokesman said he "most likely" will call on the Pope. The two men had a long talk when the Soviet minister made his first official visit to Italy in 1966.

The pontiff is expected to illustrate his policy toward Red China when he addresses a message to all Asia during his trip to the Philippines and Australia at the end of November.

The Vatican re-established long broken diplomatic ties with Communist Yugoslavia on Aug. 14. This appeared to act as a spur to the present diplomatic activity.

The Polish press hailed the Vatican-Yugoslav exchange of ambassadors as evidence that the Church and Red regimes can reach workable compromises.

The Vatican is a long way from exchanging ambassadors with other East European regimes. However, the current contacts indicate that the cold war relapse in Church-state relations induced by the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia is wearing off.

Canadian War Powers Said Invoked Because Of Election

MONTREAL (AP) — The Canadian government invoked the emergency War Measures Act last week partly to ward off a pre-election campaign of terrorism that Quebec separatists were believed planning, a federal minister said Thursday.

No significant new developments were reported in the hunt for the terrorists who killed Quebec Labor Minister Pierre Laporte and were still holding British Trade Commissioner James Cross.

But Regional Expansion Minister Jean Marchand said in a radio interview that the kidnapping of Cross and Laporte was only part of the reason for the government's proclamation of the act, which allows security forces to conduct searches without warrants and hold suspects up to 21 days without filing charges.

Marchand said authorities "had good reason to believe" that the Quebec Liberation Front, the separatist group that kidnapped and murdered Laporte and is holding Cross hostage, wanted to disturb Montreal's Nov. 1 municipal election "by explosions of all kinds and by further kidnappings or even shooting people."

He said the Montreal and Quebec governments feared anarchy might break out in Montreal and spread rapidly through the province and the nation.

Marchand also told his listeners that the Quebec Liberation Front, known by its French initials FLQ, has infiltrated the Political Action Front, or FRAP, a party that is running 31 candidates for the City Council and proposes sweeping changes in city administration.

Journalist Claude Hasmin said in an interview that "two or three, maybe three or four" of his party's candidates might be sympathetic to the FLQ, which wants French-speaking Quebec to be independent from the rest of Canada. But he insisted that FRAP "is not an FLQ organization. If it was, I wouldn't be involved in it."

The world never looked so empty — gray and overcast, and no one to talk to. Depressed, I stepped to the window sightlessly taking in the familiar view.

Off to the left, unremembered, was the church steeple. It thrust up out of the green trees like a white exclamation point in my mind.

Suddenly, I wanted to laugh out loud. How foolish of me to think of myself as alone! We are never alone; God has promised us that.

I thanked Him for the steeple, the visible reminder of His love, and for the whole Church which draws men together against the emptiness of the world.

Mort Stein New Special [J] Teacher

MORT STEIN
Special Education

By DEBBIE COATES

We, the members of CHS, are proud to introduce a new special education teacher in our system. Mort Stein, Mr. Stein resides with his wife, Barbara, at 540 Arch St. in Chillicothe.

Mr. Stein received his BA degree from Bowling Green University and attended Ohio State for three years for further training in special education. He is presently working on his master's degree at Ohio University.

Last year he taught Roweten Boys Ranch, a school for emotionally disturbed boys located 10 miles west of Chillicothe.

Mr. Stein is president of the Southeastern Association for Teachers of Referred Children and he enjoys photography.

Summer activities included working on a special program for underprivileged children and a trip through the northeastern United States.

New Student Is Welcomed

MARY FOLLIS

By DEBBIE SCHNEIDER and BETH JONES

We would like to welcome as a new student to CHS, Mary Follis, a junior enrolled in the college preparatory course.

Mary resides at 690 Garden Parkway with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Follis, and a ten-year-old brother, Chip. Her sister, Helen, is a junior in college. Mary previously attended high school in Marion, Ind., where she was active in the girls "Booster Bloc."

Mary likes CHS, and when asked what she thought of the students, she replied, "The kids are very friendly." Her plans for the future include college.

Parents Night Set Tuesday

By BETSY BACH

Come one! Come all! October 27 will be the date of the CHS Back-to-School Night sponsored by Student Council.

All parents are welcome to come to the high school beginning 7:30 p.m. and are urged to browse around meet teachers and also to take advantage of the book sale held in the library.

The book display will include many new volumes in all popular price ranges and all reading interests. These books would make really worthwhile Christmas gifts.

Refreshments will be served to those parents of admirable behavior. No slingshots or squirt guns will be tolerated! The students' book fair will be Oct. 28-30, and held during all school hours.

The junior high will also be having one Nov. 3-4 during school, and sponsored by Student Council.

CHS Band and Color Guard Takes On New Appearance

GUARD UNIT — These six young ladies make up the color guard of Circleville's high school band. From the left, kneeling, are: Karen Allen, Mary Arnold and Sandy Ankrom; standing, Ann Myers, Patty Hoffman, Melody Steeley.

By LISSA RHL and JODI STEELE

Brilliant red velvetene shorts and boleros set off by back shirts is the new look of the 1970-71 color guard unit of the CHS band. These high steppers have put forth a lot of time and hard work to produce the fine marching drills that they perform during half-time and pre-game shows. They are truly an asset to the band.

Senior Sandy Ankrom is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Snap Ankrom, and they reside at 127 Parkview Ave. Her job is to carry the red and black CHS flag. Sandy commented, "It's worth all the hard work we put into it."

Another senior, Mary Arnold, lives at 631 Elm Ave. with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Noah C. Arnold. She has the honor of carrying the American flag. Mary is also captain of the color guard. She stated that it was a lot of work, but a lot of fun.

Living at 165 Sunset Drive is sophomore Karen Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Allen Jr. She is a gunner. Her opinion of being a member of this unit is that it is a lot of fun.

Sophomore Ann Myers, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Myers, lives at 560 Lawnwood Court. The position she

Student Council On Clean-Up Committee

By ROD KASLER

Throwing confetti, programs and other debris in the air makes for a very spirited booster to our now third-ranked football team. But what goes up must come down, so who's cleaning up?

Each Monday and Tuesday, following a home football game, Student Council members arm themselves with boxes and proceed to clean up the stadium. Strength and endurance propel the crew until every slip of paper has been lifted from beneath the bleachers and among the grass. A tribute should be extended to those council members who perform this ungratifying service for our school.

In Memoriam

MR. ROBERT STEPHENS

"...I had thought, seeing how bitter is that wind That shakes the shutter, to have brought to mind All those that manhood tried, or childhood loved Or boyish intellect approved, With some appropriate commentary on each; Until imagination brought A fluter welcome; but a thought Of that late death took all my heart for speech."

—W.B. Yeats

On Friday, October 16, sadness fell upon all persons associated with CHS. Mr. Robert L. Stephens died unexpectedly Friday morning; his presence will no longer grace our school; however, memories of him will linger throughout our halls for many days, many months, many years.

Few mornings passed without this familiar announcement through the intercom: "Mr. Stephens, come to the office please!" "Mr. Stephens, please come to the office!"

Too many people feel that the job of the custodian is menial and meaningless, but few of us realize the skill and patience it takes to tread in the shoes of a man such as our Mr. Stephens. His daily tasks may have gone by unnoticed had it not been for the gleam of his smile, but who could miss the bit of sunshine that his warm personality brought to these gray walls?

We, the faculty, the students, and the personnel of Circleville Public Schools, take pride in dedicating this week's Red & Black to a departed but not forgotten friend.

1924 Classes Begin News Publication

By PATTI CRAIG

Students of CHS in 1924 needed something to keep them up to date on the happenings at the high school. This is the reason for the first publication of the Red and Black on February 25, 1924.

It was printed in booklet form and distributed every Monday morning. The publication's cost was an outrageous five cents. Azel A. Laughlin was the Editor at that time and Glen Vanscoy his assistant.

CHS also had a column in the Circleville Watchman for school news in 1924. The Red and Black acquired a full page in the Circleville Herald in 1928.

The paper has come a long way since 1924. We hope you enjoy reading the Red and Black page this year and in the years ahead.

Young Lady Leads Very Hazardous Life

By ROD KASLER

If you are walking down the halls of CHS and hear something thump and scream, but you don't see anything, don't be alarmed.

It is not a ghost or any other supernatural force, but a girl named Virginia Johnson, a sophomore at CHS. She resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, at 585 Woodland Drive.

Bruises and broken bones are a way of life to V. J. who stands four-feet-eight inches tall and weighs 75 pounds. However, these minor drawbacks do nothing to dampen her spirit, for she belongs to SOS, band and is a volunteer at Berger Hospital.

Virginia is enrolled in a college preparatory course and she enjoys horseback riding and swimming. When asked if she liked senior high school as well as junior high, she replied, "Less stairs along with more freedom would have to improve any situation."

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Hiccup Cure May Fill His Coffers

DEAR ABBY: I accidentally happened on a sure-fire cure for the hiccup. It doesn't involve any gadgets, it's just an idea. I have used it on my family and friends and it never fails.

I have read up on cures for hiccups in medical books and there is nothing like my idea mentioned. (They suggest breathing into a paper sack, sipping sugar water very slowly and holding your breath. How silly can you get?) With those methods, the hiccups might go away for a minute or two, but they come right back. My hiccup cure takes only 25 seconds and they are gone for good.

Question: Can I sell my cure to anyone? If so, how? Should I advertise in the magazines next to athlete's foot and bruises?

I suppose I could give my idea away for free, but darn it, Abby, everybody is getting paid for ideas these days and I think mine is worth a couple of dollars as hiccups can be a nuisance. I'm sure businessmen and people in the field of entertainment would give a lot to get rid of hiccups in 25 seconds.

What advice have you for me?

HICCUPS CURE

DEAR CURE: Hiccups can be more than a nuisance. If they persist for hours, days or weeks, hiccups can be a serious medical problem. A sure-fire cure for hiccups would be a valuable contribution to the world. Discuss your cure with a reputable physician. He may not cough up a way to make you rich, but, I promise you, if you have the cure you think you have, it will make you famous.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 20 years to a serviceman and have traveled around and lived in many different cities. I have worked most of the time and have never gotten very friendly with neighbors until we moved to this city two years ago. I have a very close friend now who is a neighbor of mine. She's a divorcee. My husband is presently overseas so this neighbor and I are together a lot.

We heard from a friend (who is willing to go to court and testify if we want her to) that someone we know said that this neighbor and I have a romantic "thing" going between us. The person who started that story is supposed to be a good Christian.

Of course it is vicious gossip, but we are told it is all over town. I would like to know the best way to handle it.

DEAR BOILING: If I were you, I would forget it. People of quality do not believe such stories, so why should you become upset over something which has no more meaning than the barking dogs?

DEAR ABBY: I have a relative who lives in an old age home. I invited her to my home for luncheon, and knowing that she has five friends at the home, I told her to bring them along for lunch. She did.

The following day I discovered that two sets of sterling silver salt and pepper shakers I had used on my table were missing.

I had never seen any of these five ladies before and there were no other strangers around at the time.

These little articles were a wedding gift of long ago and were precious to me. Would you advise me to mention this to my relative?

ANXIOUS TO KNOW

DEAR ANXIOUS: Yes. CONFIDENTIAL TO "BUREAU CHIEF": I agree with your husband. While there may not have been one evil or out-of-the-way thought in your head, or in the head of the businessman who invited you to his hotel with your bathing suit to lunch and swim while you talked business, you should have requested a more businesslike setting. Particularly since you have never met the man before.

The Circleville Herald, Fri., Oct. 23, 1970
Circleville, Ohio

Willie's Dillies

By BILL McGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

Well, big things are happening in old Roundtown this week with the Pumpkin Show in full swing and the third ranked Circleville Tigers hosting the Miami Trace Panthers at Tiger Field.

We hope everyone is having a good time and enjoying the festive activities of the "Great Show" but by all means get out to Tiger Field if possible and back the Red and Black gridders.

Coach Denny Williams and assistant coaches Jim Lint, Brent Bell, Danny Fouts and John Glanton have done a fine job with a great bunch of youthful gladiators and Circleville can be proud of them.

This is a young ball club and makes the Circleville football picture quite rosy for the next few years.

Just a few words of advice to a good football team that could go all the way this year . . . We hear the enthusiastic talk of the Tigers about beating Washington C. H. and Logan . . . This is fine and displays confidence in the team and the coaches . . . BUT a team called Miami Trace will be here Friday . . . Don't overlook them . . . "Lest they rise up and smite thee."

Our little gem of information . . . In a professional football game played on Sept. 27, 1942, The New York Giants defeated the Washington Redskins, 14-7. The amazing thing is that the Giants didn't have a first down in the game. It hasn't happened since.

Our "fearless" forecast — Circleville will be 7-0 with 3 to go after the Miami Trace game . . . Logan Elm's Braves will really hit the warpath against St. Charles . . . Westfall will advance against East Clinton . . . The Vikings will shamble the Shamrocks of Dublin . . . Slippery Rock will get back on dry land when they meet Indiana (Pa.) . . . Buckeyes of Ohio State will belt the Fighting Illini . . . Michigan will dig a Gopher hole for Minnesota . . . Bengals will scratch the Redskins . . . Browns will submerge the Dolphins . . . Chiefs will scalp the Cowboys . . . Rams will repel the Vikings . . . Giants will pluck the feathers of the Cardinals.

Until next time, have a nice day — be a good sport.

PLAYERS OF WEEK — Rich Speakman (34) and Bill Fowler (72) have been selected as Circleville's players of the week by the Tiger coaching staff. Speakman rushed for 262 yards and two touchdowns against Greenfield and Fowler led a furious defensive charge that curbed the Greenfield offensive effort.

Lanier And Christian Fight, But Pistons Win, 120-101

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Lanier continues to impress in his rookie season with the Detroit Pistons.

He made another impression Thursday night — on Bob Christian's nose.

Brawny Bob staggered the Atlanta rookie with a left hook and some fighting-mad players emptied out the court from the Pistons' and Hawks' benches.

Then the would-be battlers went back to the business at hand and the red-hot Pistons went on to punch out the Hawks 120-101 in a National Basketball Association game.

The action occurred when Lanier and Christian became entangled in a fight for a loose ball.

Both Lanier and Christian were hit with personal fouls — but neither was ejected. However, referee Daryl Garrison said that seven Pistons and four Hawks who left the benches probably would be fined. Under a new league rule, only coaches can leave the benches when a fight erupts.

The New York Knicks were up to their old second-half magic, coming back for a 95-92 victory over the San Francisco Warriors and San Diego beat Cleveland 140-110 in other NBA games Thursday night.

In the American Basketball Association, Memphis outscored Kentucky 109-99, Virginia turned back Carolina 114-110 and the Floridians beat the New York Nets 110-100.

Detroit, only unbeaten team in the NBA, extended its victory string to six. The Pistons had a 17-point lead in the second quarter, but the Hawks, led by Pete Maravich's 23 points, sliced the Detroit lead and ran away to hide from Atlanta.

Mike Riordan provided the spark with nine fourth-quarter points that gave the Knicks a comeback victory, their trademark in last year's title-winning season. He delivered a killing blow, a 20-foot jumper with 40 seconds left.

Elvin Hayes put on a power-house show, scoring 40 points to pace the San Diego victory over winless Cleveland.

Memphis ran away from a 50-50 halftime tie with a 35-15 third-quarter margin that buried Kentucky. Pros guard Steve Jones rifled in 10 points in the period.

Virginia collected 100 rebounds but had to rally for a last-quarter victory over Carolina. Two free throws by Roland Taylor sent the Squires ahead for good 92-91 at the 9:29 mark.

Jack Nicklaus Has Bad Day In Kaiser Open

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus summed it up in this fashion:

"I feel like a champion ready to defend his title but who trips on the ropes climbing in the ring and knocks himself out."

Nicklaus, the defending champion and pre-tourney favorite in the $150,000 Kaiser International Open golf tournament, had two three-putt greens and settled for a 71 in Thursday's first round, well back in the field.

Jack Montgomery, a non-winning tour veteran from Fort Worth, Tex., took the lead with a brilliant 65, seven under par on the 6,559-yard South course at the Silverado County Club. The 6,613-yard, par 72 North course also was played, with the field switching courses for today's second round.

Veteran Ken Still, winner of two tournaments last year, was alone in second with a 66, also on the South course.

Four veterans and a 24-year-old Canadian rookie, Ben Kern, were tied at 67. Also at 67 are former masters champion Bob Goalby, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Mason Rudolph and Dale Douglass, who scored a hole in one on the 167-yard, par three 17th hole. Kern, Rodriguez and Douglass played the South course, Goalby and Rudolph the North.

The large group at 68 included Dave Hill and Bert Yancey.

Montgomery, still seeking his first official victory after eight years on the pro tour, has won only about $10,000 this season and is making his first start in almost two months.

"I went home after I failed to qualify at Hartford," the big, 29-year-old blond said. "I just got sick of shooting those damn 80s and I thought I'd better get home and see if I couldn't get straightened out."

17 Blacks Bounced From Team

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP) — Idaho State University football coach Ed Cavanaugh says 17 black players will play no more this season.

The 17, including three freshman squad members, were suspended Thursday after they boycotted a practice Wednesday.

The 14 varsity members, including four starters on both the offensive and defensive teams, were close-mouthed about the reason they refused to report for practice Wednesday.

A spokesman indicated, however, that two black defensive backs, Don Taylor and Rhett Sherman, were not being given enough playing time, even in games where ISU was far ahead.

Another player who declined to be identified said he felt he could not discuss his problem with Cavanaugh. Cavanaugh dismissed the charge, saying he had talked at length with that particular player.

Cavanaugh and his staff met Wednesday afternoon with the rest of the squad, 44 players, then announced that the suspension would hold for as scheduled. The team is 3-3 for the year.

4 Quarterbacks Close In Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — Four NCAA College Division quarterbacks are waging the tightest total offense race since the weekly statistical rankings began in 1948. Only 5.3 yards per game separate the four.

Tim Von Dulin of Portland State is the total offense leader with an average of 269.8 yards a game, according to statistics released today.

Ken Anderson of Augustana, Ill., is second with 268.2, followed by Mike Greiboski of Drake with 267.2 and Jim Lindsey of Abilene Christian with 264.5.

Memphis ran away from a 50-50 halftime tie with a 35-15 third-quarter margin that buried Kentucky. Pros guard Steve Jones rifled in 10 points in the period.

Virginia collected 100 rebounds but had to rally for a last-quarter victory over Carolina. Two free throws by Roland Taylor sent the Squires ahead for good 92-91 at the 9:29 mark.

Forecaster Sees Minnesota Over L.A.

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Off the bench and into the game for the first time this season, uniform spotless and ego unruffled, and bang-faced with the prospect of choosing between the Los Angeles Rams and Minnesota Vikings.

And here's the pick: Minnesota 24, Los Angeles 20. The reasoning is that the Rams have more injuries, therefore the Vikings will get more points. Ram quarterback Roman Gabriel has a left shoulder contusion and two members of the Front Four—Deacon Jones and Merlin Olsen—are bothered by nagging leg injuries. The Vikings' Front Four, key to a league-leading defense that has allowed only 36 points, is intact—and healthy.

And so it's the Rams in the Monday night game that will be nationally televised by ABC beginning at 9 p.m., EDT. The other games on the National Football League's 13-game program all are Sunday but that doesn't make the pickin' easier. But here goes:

Denver 27, San Francisco 24—An upset based on Rich Jackson and Co. on the Bronco Front Four teeing off and getting at 49ers' John Brodie.

Miami 35, Cleveland 17—Paul Warfield, traded by Browns, returns to haunt Brown mates with two touchdown catches from Dolphin quarterback Bob Griese.

St. Louis 38, New York Giants 10—Giants' defense feeling great after shutout of Boston, but MacArthur Lane will make them feel otherwise.

Detroit 31, Chicago 7—Bears can't run without Gale Sayers. When you can't run you can't pass. When you can't run or pass you can't score. Detroit can.

Kansas City 24, Dallas 17—The Chiefs, born the Dallas Texans, lost the battle for the city but will win this first regular season meeting with Len Dawson back in peak form.

Baltimore 28, Boston 27—The Colts have won four of five by outscoring the opposition 107-106. The bubble's got to burst but Joe Kapp and his new mates won't be the ones.

Oakland 42, Pittsburgh 14—Raiders in high gear now with Darryl Lamonia throwing and Hewitt Dixon running as he did in Super Bowl year. Terry Bradshaw gets another lesson.

Washington 31, Cincinnati 21—The Bengals aren't the Raiders so Sonny Jurgensen will be able to go deep instead of throwing to his backs.

San Diego 27, Houston 10—With quarterback Charley Johnson and running back Hoyle Granger lost, the Oilers don't figure to have much offense.

Atlanta 17, New Orleans 11—neither team shows much explosiveness, and statistically there's not much difference. Give the Falcons the home field edge.

Green Bay 34, Philadelphia 20—Eagles are still playing magic chairs with Front Four and Norm Snead can't get going. Donny Anderson running well for Packers now.

Buffalo 28, New York Jets

13—Joe Namath has joined Jets' injured list, depriving attack of all potency. Dennis Shaw and O.J. Simpson give Bills more than enough firepower.

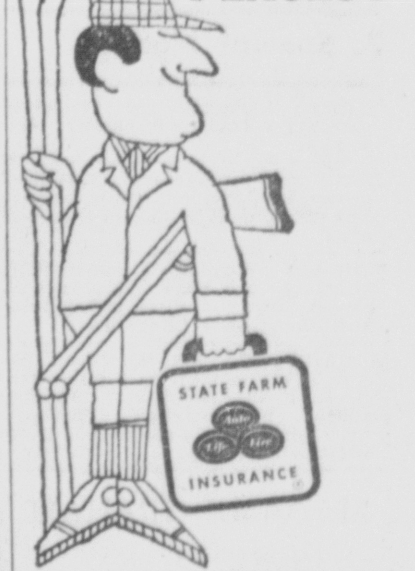

Robert Wells Joins Cincinnati Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP) — Robert Wells, a 6-4, 270-pound guard claimed earlier from the San Diego Chargers, reported Thursday to the Cincinnati Bengals of the National Football League.

Wells, who played two seasons with the Chargers, was their 15th round draft choice in 1968. He had been waived by San Diego because of injuries.

Injured defensive end Nick Roman, a rookie from Ohio State, was activated for Sunday's game against the Redskins to Washington. The Bengals put defensive back John Guillary on the "move" list to make room for Roman.

SPORTS Highlights

ATLANTA (AP) — Tradition is against a successful ring comeback for Muhammad, Ali after a 3 year layoff, but that doesn't faze the brash and cocky ex-heavyweight champion of the world.

"Man, I'm faster than when I was the fastest," insists the controversial Louisville Lip, capping off training for his Monday night 15 - rounder here against Jerry Quarry.

"I am only 28. I have kept myself in shape. I have lived a clean life. I am still the best—the champ. Nobody can beat me."

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins still are the National Hockey League's only unbeaten team, but their long winning streak started en route to the Stanley Cup last spring is ended.

The Bruins, who had won 14 in a row, including the last 10 in the playoffs nearly six months ago, had to come from behind to earn a 3-3 tie with Chicago's close-checking Black Hawks Thursday night before a sweltering crowd of 14,885 at sticky Boston Garden.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The Toledo Rockets' offensive tackle Jim Goodman will miss Saturday's Mid-American Conference football clash with Kent State because of a back ailment.

School officials said Goodman is undergoing tests at a hospital and might be out the rest of the season. He is a 230-pound junior from Portsmouth.

Indians Nip Wilmington 12-6 In SCOL

Hillsboro scored twice in the first half then fought off a strong second half attack on the part of Wilmington to down the Hurricane 12-6, in a South Central Ohio League clash at the Indians field.

Both teams were evenly matched as they both garnered 15 first downs. Hillsboro rushed for 229 yards while Wilmington gained 260 yards of real estate, 206 coming in the second half.

The Indians opened the scoring in the first quarter when Scott Coffman scored on a 9-yard run to cap a 78-yard drive with 1:50 left in the period. The conversion attempt failed.

With 5:08 remaining in the half the Indians drove 25-yards for another score with Tim Shelton blasting over from the one-yard line. A run for the extra point failed.

Wilmington got on the scoreboard in the third stanza when Randy Harris recovered a fumble by the Hurricane quarterback in the endzone. They failed to convert and the final score stood at 12-6.

Hillsboro is now 1-3 in the league and 3-4 overall while Wilmington is 1-3 in the league and sports an overall record of 1-5-1.

Tiger Cubs Top MT, 12-7

Circleville Freshmen downed the Miami Trace Frosh, 12-7, in a game played at Circleville Junior High field.

The little Tigers scored in the first period when Chris Payne took a short flair pass from Dave Mehalick and raced 60 yards for a touchdown.

Miami Trace scored in the second period and converted the extra point to take a 7-6 lead.

Chris Payne scored again in the third quarter when he raced around right end for a touchdown and the Tigers went out in front, 12-7.

TRACE wasn't through and moved to a first down on Circleville's three-yard line with less than a minute remaining in the game.

The little Tiger defenders rose to the occasion and held for four downs, denying Trace the score.

Defensive standouts were Scott Linn, Tim Strawser, Terry Rooney, Brian Barthelmas, James Payne, Reggie Radeliff, Keith Davis, Dale Imler, John Ankrom, Wade Camp, Joe Smith, and Mike Speakman.

Rock Davis did an outstanding job for Circleville on offense.

The frosh are now 4-0-1 and will be at Washington C.H. on Oct. 31.

Toledo Fights To Stay On Top

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Toledo, which can wrap one hand around the Mid-American Conference football trophy at Kent State Saturday, finds that being on top has its problems.

"It's just like being the toughest kid on the block," one assistant Rocket coach said. "You have to prove it each day on the way home."

Toledo has proven it 17 straight times and can match Bowling Green's all-time conference winning streak of 18 games against the Flashers besides earning a title share with a 4-0 league record.

Miami (1-1), which faces Toledo Oct. 31 and has an outside chance at the crown, needs a home victory over Bowling Green Saturday to stay alive in the title chase.

In other key games on the 20-contest Ohio college schedule, Ohio State visits Illinois in the Big Ten, Muskingum goes to Capital in a match of Ohio Conference co-leaders and Defiance can clinch a third straight Mid-Ohio title.

The Buckeyes are off to a 2-0 Big Ten start in quest of a third straight conference title which Illinois, young and inconsistent, is 0-2 in the league.

Capital, 3-0 like Muskingum in the Ohio Conference, hasn't beaten the Muskies since 1945 and has won only two of 23 games between the two.

Defiance tries to erase the thoughts of losing its 13-game winning streak last week to Manchester, winding up its Mid-Ohio action against winless Bluffton. A victory would give the Yellowjackets a 4-0 league record.

Ohio University and host Cincinnati, meeting since 1896, can be expected to stage another high-scoring duel. The Bobcats won the last two meetings and the two rivals rolled up 100 points in the contests.

Only five of 34 Ohio colleges still carry unsullied records in midseason. Toledo owns six straight victories in 1970 while Wittenberg is 5-0 and Ohio State, Capital and Wooster all 4-0.

Ohio schools or players lead five national categories in this week's NCAA statistics.

Ohio State is first in rushing offense (378.8 yards per game), Miami tops in total defense (166.8 yards) and Toledo No. 1 in scoring defense (3.0 points).

Gary Kosins of Dayton leads the nation's scorers with 13 points a game. Dick Adams of Miami is atop the kickoff return department with a 30.8 yard average.

Elsewhere Saturday, Xavier is at Tampa, Wooster at Kenyon, Otterbein at Marietta, Mount

Union at Hiram, Oberlin at Denison, Wabash at Ohio Wesleyan, Westminster at Heidelberg, Wilmington at Case Western Reserve, Findlay at Hillsdale, John Carroll at Allegheny, Central State at West Virginia State, Ashland at Ohio Northern and, in night games, Dayton at Akron and Wittenberg at Baldwin-Wallace.

Pitt Panthers Face Miami In Top College Grid Tilt

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Pitt Panthers, once one of the most feared teams in the country, but just a bunch of tame pussycats the last few years, take the spotlight away from the top-ranked Ohio State Buckeyes in college football Saturday.

The Panthers scored an upset 36-35 victory over West Virginia last week with a fantastic second half rally after trailing 35-8. That was Pitt's fourth straight triumph after an opening game defeat by UCLA and recalled the glory days of the Jock Sutherland coaching era in the 1920s and 1930s.

How they do against the Miami Hurricanes at Pitt Stadium Saturday should indicate whether the Panthers actually are on the way back or if the upset of West Virginia was just a flash in the pan.

Sutherland's teams were famous for their running game and ability to block and tackle. That seems to be the style of Pitt's current coach, Carl Desqua. He calls it "fundamentally sound football, Western Pennsylvania style."

The No. 1 Buckeyes, whose trademark also is a strong running attack, play at Illinois and are favored to win their fifth straight against no defeats.

In other games, involving The Associated Press Top Ten, No. 2 Texas plays at Rice and the Longhorns also are favored to make five in a row against the Owls. Third-ranked Notre Dame, 5-0, has an open date, while No. 4 Nebraska, unbeaten, tied, is host to Oklahoma State.

Michigan, No. 5, goes after its sixth straight against Minnesota at Ann Arbor. Auburn, No. 6, entertains Louisiana State. Air Force, No. 7, is at home to Boston College. Stanford, No. 8, is at UCLA. No. 9, Arkansas, meets Wichita State at Little Rock and Southern California, No. 10, is at Oregon.

Minnesota at Michigan is one of four games that will be regionally televised by ABC. The others are Penn State at Army, Florida at Tennessee and Dartmouth at Harvard.

The Florida at Tennessee game may provide some fireworks. Doug Dickie, now Florida coach, was the Tennessee coach last season.

Stanford, led by quarterback Jim Plunkett, is aiming for the Rose Bowl and the Indians do not plan to let UCLA upset their hopes.

Other leading games include Colorado at Missouri, Kansas State at Oklahoma, Southern Mississippi at Mississippi State, Mississippi at Vanderbilt, Georgia at Kentucky, Arizona at Utah and New Mexico at Wyoming.

Pacific Storm Pounds West

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A Pacific storm hurled wind and rain into the Northwest today and dumped heavy snow on mountain passes of Washington and Oregon.

Wind gusts hit 70 miles an hour along sections of the Washington coast. Locally heavy rains soaked some areas.

Travelers warnings were extended during the night from the Oregon Cascades into Washington because of expected heavy accumulations of snow.

A cold front rolling across the Great Plains triggered thunderstorms from Texas to Iowa. Large hail pelted Wichita Falls, Tex.

Cloudy and rainy weather persisted in the Northeast, and fog again shrouded scattered areas from the Great Lakes to the Ohio Valley.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 21 at Butte, Mont., to 77 at Kingsville, Tex.

OSU Coed Faces Arson Arraignment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A

court appearance was scheduled today for an Ohio State University coed accused of setting two fires in Morrison Tower on campus.

Pamela Jean Edgecombe, 19, of Baltimore, also is charged with threatening to destroy a building in connection with a phony bomb threat at the dormitory Oct. 13.

Campus police arrested the Fairclough County girl Thursday following a fire in a bathroom on the third floor of the building. The second arson count involved a small fire Oct. 16.

The two fires caused only minor damage.

Miss Edgecombe was held without bail in the Franklin County Jail. Campus police would not say what led to the girl's arrest.

Her arrest followed by exactly one week the release of Harriett Frances Leeb of South Euclid from the Lima State Hospital.

Miss Leeb, now 21, was accused of setting a fire at Morrill Tower on the OSU campus in 1968 that took the lives of two coeds. A common pleas court jury found her innocent of manslaughter and arson by reason of insanity.

Travel Firm Hit By Suit

CINCINNATI (AP) — The bankrupt World Academy, a student travel agency, and a court-appointed trustee were named Thursday in a $2,986,440 class action suit filed by a minority stockholder in U. S. District Court.

World Academy and its subsidiaries filed bankruptcy July 6, leaving approximately 3,200 students temporarily stranded in Europe. The firm listed assets of about $800,000 and debts of $4 million. The figures were revised to $2,550,440 in debts and $1,918,441 in assets.

Rita Wolf of Cincinnati named the firm, five subsidiaries and 11 individuals including attorney James Cissell, the trustee as defendants. Cissell had petitioned the court earlier to turn the firm's assets over to him for reimbursement.

The suit challenged Cissell's petition and asked that $16,300 be returned to Mrs. Wolf for her $6,300 shares and that the remainder of the $2,986,440 be returned to the holders of other outstanding stock.

The suit alleged the issuance and sale of common stock violated the Securities Act and sections of the Securities and Exchange Act.

Sidney Strike Ends; Contract Approved

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP) — Members of Local 2167 International Association of Machinists, ratified a contract with the Liberty Folding Co. Thursday, ending a 25-day strike.

The new pact provides a 63-cent hourly wage increase over three years. Production at the plant, a subsidiary of Bell and Howell, will resume Monday.

Browns Set Trip To Orange Bowl

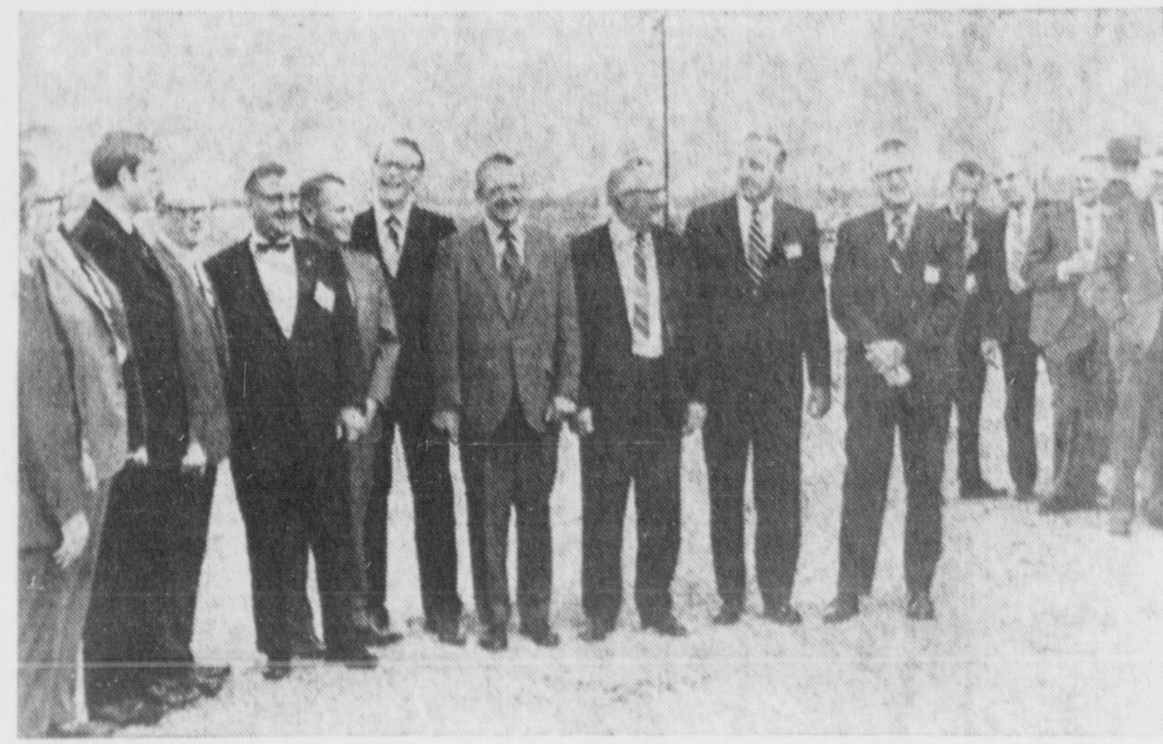

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) —

A spokesman for the Cleveland Browns said Thursday that the team will fly to Miami on Saturday, a day earlier than usual, to enable players to work out on the Orange Bowl's artificial turf.

The Browns play the Miami Dolphins in an American Football Conference game in the Orange Bowl on Sunday.

The spokesman said the Browns would try several types of shoes in practice to determine which kind is best suited to the turf.

DuPont Dedicates Facility For Pollution Control

DEDICATION — Local, county, state and Du Pont officials are gathered for the dedication of the new water pollution control facility at Du Pont's Circleville plant. About 50 dignitaries and guests took part in the ceremonies.

A new $300,000 water pollution control facility was dedicated at the Circleville industrial plant of the Du Pont Company here Thursday. Two aerated lagoons have been placed in operation to facilitate biochemical degradation of organic materials before waste waters are discharged to the adjacent Scioto River. This facility will insure that waters delivered to the Scioto will have received the best treatment currently available and will easily meet long range water quality standards for the river.

An unusual feature of the lagoons is the synthetic rubber Hypalon (R) lining covering the entire 3½ acre storage area to prevent contamination of underground water supplies, an important factor because of porous soil conditions. The lagoons hold over nine million gallons, and water under treatment will remain in the lagoons about three and one-half days.

The Du Pont Circleville plant manufactures industrial films — Mylar (R) polyester film, Kapton (R) polyimide film and Teflon (R) FEP film—used in a wide variety of end products such as wire and cable, magnetic tapes, capacitors, reproduction substrates and packaging materials. Initial plant facilities were constructed in 1953 and 1954, with major expansions being completed in 1959, 1963 and 1969. Current employment is about 1350.

About 50 dignitaries and guests participated in the dedication. Among those invited were Congressman Chalmers P. Wylie, State Senator Harry L. Armstrong, State Representative Myrl H. Shoemaker, Circleville Mayor Richard L. Gerhardt, Assistant Director of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources — Richard E. Midden, Department of Health Chief Engineer for Industrial Wastes — J. Earl Richards, the entire technical committee of the Scioto Valley Water Quality Improvement Association and numerous representatives of local industry and governmental or civic agencies associated with clean water.

Local and county officials attending the dedication were County Commissioners Charles Morris, Wayne Hines and Dick Tootle; Sheriff Dwight Radcliff and Joe Bell, president of Circleville City Council.

M. R. Haradon, A. D. Bray and Fiske O'Hara spoke for the Du Pont Corp.

Disturbed Child Topic Of OU Series

The emotionally disturbed child is a member of our community as are all children. He merits our special concern, however, since his problems are of a different nature than those of most children.

In response to this concern, the Ohio Board of Regents has authorized the use of Title I monies to provide a Community Mental Health training program which will deal with problems of the emotionally disturbed child in his family.

This series will be held on four Monday evenings, Nov. 2, 9, 16 and 23, from 7 to 8:15 p.m. in room 11 of Bennett Hall at Chillicothe's Ohio University branch.

The first session will deal with handicapped children — the mentally retarded with major disorders. Session two concerns help for children in times of family crisis. Discussion will be based upon divorce, death and the ill parent.

The Nov. 16 assembly will cover the adolescent, dealing with school dropouts, drugs, runaways and sexual misbehavior. The fourth session, an open session, will be used to deal with the major questions raised during the first three sessions.

Lecturer will be Dr. Jane Kessler of Case Western Reserve University. The program is open to all persons free of charge with proper preregistration. Enclose a card with your name, address and notation for enrollment in the tele-lecture series on "The Child in His Family."

Mail to: Dr. Hunt Badger, OU-C, 571 W. Fifth St., Chillicothe, Ohio 45601.

Danny Thomas Speaks To Meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Comedian • humanitarian Danny Thomas headlined a luncheon meeting today of the Ohio Association of Broadcasters.

Thomas, founder of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, was the featured speaker and also was to receive the OAB's "Achievement Award" from Atty. Gen. Paul W. Brown.

Other sessions today featured coach Bob Cousy of the Cincinnati Royals professional basketball team, a panel discussion on broadcasting and the retailer and an address by Arch N. Booth, vice president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

More than 150 radio and television broadcasters are attending the two-day fall meeting.

Thursday, a panel on drug abuse took a hard line on narcotics peddlers.

The Statue of Liberty became so marked by lipstick in recent years that officials coated it with a special lipstick-resistant paint.

Ministers Pledge Support To Retarded School Levy

Pickaway County Ministerial Assn. pledged support of the five-tenths mill operating levy for the Brooks-Yates School and the Mentally Retarded Workshop.

The unanimous action by the area ministers came Wednesday during the October meeting of the group in the Community Methodist Church.

Martin Sharrett spoke in behalf of the operating levy which will be on the Nov. 3 ballot. Brooks-Yates School and the Workshop for Mentally retarded is the only educational facility for retarded in the county.

A filmstrip on the work of CROP in India was a feature of the program. CROP is the community hunger appeal of Church World Services, helping the hungry and homeless in 40 countries with food, seeds, tools, fertilizer, and equipment.

In other action, the association adopted a motion by unanimous vote to request the County Fair Board to delay the opening of the fair until Monday this year in order to avoid conflict of interest with the churches on Sunday.

The Pickaway County Ministerial Assn. meets in regular session the third Wednesday of the month, 9:30 a.m., at Community Methodist Church. All ministers of Christian Churches in the county are urged to attend its meetings. Officers this year are: president, The Rev. John W. Dennis; vice president, The Rev. Donald Cummins; secretary, The Rev. R. L. Heimbach; and treasurer, The Rev. Carl G. Zehner.

A special Thanksgiving Fellowship is planned for Nov. 16 at a place to be announced, replacing the regular November meeting the association.

Soviets . . .

Officers in Ankara said they assumed all four men were in uniform since they were making an inspection tour and were to have been met by Turkish military officers at Kars.

It was the first time in some years that an American plane had strayed across the Turkish-Soviet border. American officials would not comment on speculation that the Soviets might try to exchange the captured officers for the Lithuanian father and son who hijacked a Soviet airliner last Thursday and diverted it to Turkey. The two killed a stewardess and wounded two other crew members, but so far the Turkish government has not acceded to the Soviet government's demand that they be returned.

The last American flier to stray into the Soviet Union was held a week, in July 1969, before consular officials arranged his release. He was Lt. Col. George Patterson of Chamblee, Ga., who was flying a small plane with a West German companion in an air rally from Romania to Turkey. They crossed the border near Batumi, Georgia, on July 4, 1969, and were released on July 11.

Mt. Sterling Plant Plans Expansion

Versa Corporation at Mt. Sterling, manufacturers of conveyors and other products, plans an expansion that will double the plant in size.

Plans also include an increase in the number of employees for the business that is expected to triple within four years.

According to a company official, the firm now employs 75 men. The number will be increased to 125.

The corporation expects to do an estimated $1,500,000 business this year.

Pumpkin, Squash Display Bigger, Better Than Ever

"Bigger and better than ever" may be a time-worn cliché but it certainly fits the beautiful pumpkin, squash and gourd display of the 1970 Pumpkin Show.

Director Clarence Radcliffe announced early in the week a record size for a squash — a 289-pounder grown by Ralph Dunkel. And the second largest squash was a 283-pound specimen grown by Frank Coon. Both were larger by 20 pounds or more than the previous record.

In addition a record was set in the pumpkin, this too grown by Ralph Dunkel. His Tan Cheese entry in the Pumpkin Show tipped the scales at 119½ pounds.

The best of show for Red Cow Pumpkin was entered by Coon Brother of Ashville and best of show for Tan Cheese was entered by Ralph Dunkel.

Dunkel and the Coon Brothers dominated the show, winning a total of 50 ribbons in the competition.

Here is a complete list of the winners in the show:

Largest Squash: Weight 289 lbs. — 1. Ralph Dunkel, 2. Frank Coon, 3. George Coon, 4. E. Dunkel.

Largest Pumpkin: Weight 119½ lbs. Tan Cheese — 1. Ralph Dunkel, 2. Frank Coon, 3. E. Dunkel, 4. George Coon.

Largest Pumpkin: Weight 59 lbs. Red Cow — 1. Frank Coon, 2. George Coon, 3. W. Mast, 4. E. Mast.

O'Brien Rips Nixon, Agnew For Creating 'Fear Politics'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien says President Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew are preaching the politics of fear in an attempt to mask the failure of their administration.

In a speech to the National Press Club Thursday, O'Brien said Nixon "has failed to establish one real national goal, unless it be the election of Republicans next month and his own reelection 24 months from now."

"With our institutions under question and attack from all sides, our leaders seek merely to convert the ailments of our society—which they should be working to heal—into political gains," said O'Brien, former postmaster general and aide to Presidents John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson.

He charged Agnew was dispatched to the Republican campaign to preach the politics of fear. "Nixon now has joined him in 'the mind-fogging magic of demagoguery,'" O'Brien said.

In an attempt to cover up the Republican administration's failure to deal with society's urgent needs, the Nixon-Agnew "combination has managed to drag into the arena of politics—into the scramble for votes—virtually every note of discord plaguing our society," O'Brien charged.

Referring to what he called "the politics of fear" practiced by the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy, R-Wis., O'Brien said:

"We hoped we had finally outgrown such national aberration, but now, we are beset once again by the politics of fear. And this time the practitioner is not a single demagogue senator, but a carefully orchestrated team of the highest officeholders in the land."

With the two-party system and U.S. society hanging in the balance, he added, "The art of leadership, to those in power today, has been reduced to discord, divisiveness, distrust and just plain demagoguery."

O'Brien said Nixon's relatively recent entry into Republican campaigns in several states was an attempt to undo problems created by Agnew in several weeks of vote-seeking.
